

Dan-Foam ApS

Environmental Policy

The most efficient way to protect the environment is to reduce the use of resources. This is achieved by continuous optimization of the use of resources, by means of which the impact of the external environment is reduced.

We commit ourselves, as a minimum, to live up to the legal requirements (Danish and EU) and other relevant requirements which we have joined in relation to environmental conditions of the company.

In close dialog with authorities, we ensure that we constantly work with initiatives that protect the environment and that we seek continuous improvements.